Required items for manufactured trailer without a title

-Must meet all regulations listed in Subchapter G of vehicle code

***A link to PA code book is on enhanced inspection page

- Proof of ownership from selling party (proof not stolen)
  - *Best method, Registration Card (some states do not require titles for trailers but all states do require trailers to be registered. Due to this, PA will accept a registration card from the selling party as an acceptable proof of ownership, valid or expired)
  - Receipt from a boat/trailer business that sold the trailer to the selling party (**may need to go through MV1i process)
  - Any other documentation that may validly show proof of ownership (**may need to go through MV1i process)
- Receipt of purchase (VIN specific with selling price and sellers' signature)
- Copy of receipts for any additional items used (wood for deck, etc.)
- Unladen weight slip (for an additional fee, we can weigh trailer and complete a certified weight slip, or you can have trailer weighed at a quarry or other certified scales that can issue a signed weight slip from a weigh master)
- Commonly missed items
  - Proper lighting/location as per chart (\**see link to lighting chart on enhanced inspection page*)
  - License plate holder (note: must be mounted with license plate light on it)
  - Tires must have proper load range (tires must have equivalent load range or greater than what trailer is rated for) it is recommended that a trailer tire be used instead of a passenger or light truck tire. Trailer tires have a stiffer side wall, making them much better in a trailer application.
  - Trailer must have a deck on it except for a trailer designed to haul special cargo like a kayak. If no deck is present, it must have framework/brackets installed to securely attach the special cargo.
